Prof. Pradnya Adhav presented the keynote speaker, Mrs. Veena Raut, who opened the lecture by exploring the theme of International Women's Day 2022: "Gender Equality Today for a Sustainable Tomorrow."

Mrs. Raut delved into the concepts of gender equality and sustainability, using a captivating PPT presentation. She outlined three key principles for women's empowerment:

Energy: Recognizing and nurturing the inherent potential within women. Women should contact and interact with other people in the society to develop themselves, focus on the field in which they are interested and devote time to it.

Expand: Encouraging women to broaden their horizons and challenge limitations. For women to develop themselves in this global environment, they should take risks and develop themselves for what they can do in addition to leaving their safe zone. In this, it can be seen that women prefer the fields of education and banking. From such fields, women should take risks by choosing other fields. Only then will you realize you're potential.

Empower: Providing women with the tools and resources to achieve their full potential. For women to identify themselves and make their own decisions according to the concept of International Women's Day. Make yourself independent. Love your own life. Satisfy your own interest. We focused on this. So, we can create a distinct identity of our own in this global environment.

This engaging lecture sparked meaningful discussions and highlighted the importance of empowering women for a more equitable and sustainable future. From all such detailed information, Mrs. Veena Raut madam expressed her opinion on the concept of Women's Day. Smita Raut, librarian of the college declared the program end with the vote of thanks.
