Details of the Program:

MES Night College of Arts and Commerce, organized by the Maharashtra Education Society, held a special lecture program on "Online Exam Preparation, Apprehension, and Results" on March 26, 2021, at 4:30 PM. The program began with the melodious singing of the Saraswati Mantra. It was conducted online via Google Meet under the guidance of Principal Dr. Atul Kulkarni, who was also present for the introductory program.

Prof. Dadasaheb Magar served as the coordinator for this special lecture. Mr. Pramod Bhadkwade, the keynote speaker, provided a brief introduction before the speakers began their presentations.

Mr. Bhadkwade's lecture provided students with detailed information about the format of online examinations (MCQs) planned by Savitribai Phule Pune University. He offered valuable guidance on preparing for online exams, including how to solve questions and other techniques to employ during the exam. He also informed students about the procedures for addressing network-related or other technical issues that may arise during online exams. In the concluding part of his lecture, he addressed various student questions about the exam and cleared any lingering doubts. A total of 75 students participated in the program.

Prof. Amardeep Gurme expressed his gratitude for the program and acknowledged the coordination efforts of Prof. Ramdas Bade and Prof. Shiv Kumar. The program was attended by the college principal, and special guidance was provided by Dr. Atul Kulkarni.

This special lecture program, organized to benefit students in their online exam preparation, successfully addressed their anxieties and concerns about the exam process and results.
